The Costumes for this Stupendous Production Have been borrowed, designed and accumulated by Mrs. Wilmer Thomas. The elegant scenic effects were created and erected by Messrs Joe Compton, Wilbur Compton and Joe Montgomery. The business manager for this lavish production is Mr. Stuart McClosky. The excellent publicity was produced by the facile pen of Mr. Walden Klaus. The flattering make-up was applied by Miss Virginia Sneed and Major Raymond Moses. The furniture and properties were begged, borrowed and stolen by Mrs. Dorothy Turan from the following kind friends of the Little Theatre: Teller's Gift Shop, Mrs. L. B. Amis, Hoggatt's Antique Shop, St. Charles Smoke House, Rice Furniture Store, Racket Store, Paul Marsicano.

THE USHERS who so gracefully and courteously escorted the audience to their seats are: Miss Ladye Betty Chandler, Miss Anne Brown, Miss Mattie Blake Theus, Miss Millie Theus, Miss Sue Kelly.

THE MANAGEMENT has been at great pains to produce this heart-rending melodrama by special arrangement with Samuel French and they respectfully request: THAT you do not divulge to anyone the situation which is developed during the closing lines of the play.

Attention! ARTICLES cast upon the stage by members of the audience during the performance will NOT be returned!
